

'Seeing' Science

TUESDAY, 21 NOV 2017

4 – 5 PM

FACULTY HALL
MAIN BUILDING

Illustrations have been essential in many fields of biology, especially cell and molecular biology. Certain advancements in technology now enable us to attempt scientifically-informed design. As much as it helps communicate discoveries and theories to the research community and public, it can often trigger 'visual thinking' in scientists helping them gain new insights and ideas.

Shraddha Nayak, PhD

Shraddha Nayak is a biomedical illustrator. Her past and current clients include the Medical College of Wisconsin, University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign, National Institutes of Health, University of Groningen in Netherlands, Milwaukee School of Engineering–Centre for BioMolecular Modeling and The Scientist magazine.

THE APC LECTURE SERIES AIMS TO BRING EXPERTS IN COMMUNICATION,
HISTORY, ARCHIVING, POLICY, AND PUBLISHING TO THE INSTITUTE

All are welcome

