About Pravega

Pravega is the annual fest conducted by the undergraduate community of the Indian Institute of Science. Derived from the Sanskrit word for acceleration, Pravega accurately describes the sentiment of the work culture in the scientific and student community, that of accelerating in life.

Being an eclectic mixture of scientific and cultural events, since its inception, it has been the goal of Pravega to provide a unification of science and culture, for a sustained growth of both. Pravega also aims to provide a platform for people to share new ideas which can be used for the betterment of the society.
